.which all institutes must emulate. Once a year college should document all research work, print, and send to industries which can benefit from it. Institutes must go nearer to industry in this way. Industry then will respond with live problems, and even participate with funds. Surely its a innvoative step ...

A vibrant platform for enterprising boys and girls. This kind of opportunity help pupils to exhibit their talents and further helps them to do research . It also enables the corporate world to hire right candidate for their Industry or firm in future. Interaction with top scholars and industry leaders might helped them to enhance their confidence and knowledge in the subject matter. Such event help the learners to know about themselves as through this they become aware of their talents and accordingly they can nurture their skill further. It even helps professors to guide, lead and direct their students so that their intrinsic and extrinsic qualities are used for their best only.
